A career of images is hard to express in words... I am a lover of light, colour and movement, partial to darkness too. After studying experimental film, I honed my technical skills by working my way up in camera departments on feature films and commercials with 35mm film. Originally from Australia, I have settled in the U.K. and am always looking to connect with directors/ producers any side of the globe.

My career has been as versatile in style as it has been in genre, my passion for narrative-driven composition and lighting extends through my drama, documentary and commercial work. Recently nominated for a BAFTA Cymru (Documentary) and with the BFI feature SWEETHEART doing well in film festivals internationally, I am creative and passionate about the work I deliver, believing in the true collaboration of film.
