A career of images is hard to express in words... I am a lover of light, colour and movement, partial to darkness too. After studying experimental film, I honed my technical skills by working my way up in camera departments on feature films and commercials with 35mm film.

My career has been as versatile in style as it has been in genre; my passion for narrative-driven composition and lighting extends through my drama, documentary and commercial work. Recently nominated for a BAFTA Cymru (Documentary) and with the feature SWEETHEART winning many audience awards in film festivals internationally, I thrive on the balance of speed and style.

Originally from Australia, I have settled in the U.K. and am always looking to connect with up and coming directors/ producers any side of the globe. I am creative and passionate about the work I deliver, so don't hesitate to get in touch to see more, ask questions or meet up.
